

- What is KneoWorld?

KneoWorld's story-based learning model is an innovative, research-based approach for students and teachers in the classroom. Our complete programme of customised content, professional development and data driven resources is validated by educators to support districts and schools in their pursuit of meeting the instructional needs of ALL learners.

- Is KneoWorld aligned with curriculum?

Our story-based Lessons are founded on current curriculum and are aligned to the National Curriculum. Specific learning outcomes are mapped to measure growth and mastery. Content for literacy and numeracy covers Key Stages 1-4. KneoWorld content also includes science and critical thinking.

- How will KneoWorld address the needs of my students?

In addition to being mapped to hours of learning programmes, KneoWorld's unique content development system allows us to rapidly customise lessons and games to enhance schools' specific curricular support requirements. We work one on one with schools to understand their needs and we can curate meaningful curriculum-based programmes that are proven to make a difference.

- How can KneoWorld be used in my classroom?

KneoWorld provides teachers with resources to implement different learning models to differentiate instruction for whole group, small group, stations, split classrooms and during outside of school programmes.

The company provides supporting resources that show how to add hands-on activities to help students with mastery and growth; and educator workshops that are complete with Lesson Plans and 15-30 PD credit hours (where allowed).

- Does KneoWorld update its programme content?

Updating content is ongoing. KneoWorld relies on our clients for feedback for continuous improvement and expansion. Our team of pedagogues, curriculum experts, writers and graphic artists are always developing and designing new lesson games, stories, more extensive analytics and expanding the programmes for all students. We welcome new ideas and suggestions!
